1. Robert Johnson of the NSC staff telephoned asking for the second of the two Jackson speeches and a copy was dispatched.

2. [redacted] telephoned to say that [redacted] met John Hancock recently at the beach. Hancock is the Administrative Assistance for Senator Homer E. Capehart. Hancock stated that a former employee of the Agency had come in to see the Senator saying he was from Indiana and wanted to leave a "secret" file. The file had been left but the Senator did not read it. John Hancock did read it and it dealt with a long series of maltreatment of the individual. Hancock merely mentioned this and did not indicate any action was wished. I will attempt to see Hancock on this in the next few days.

4. Senator Henry M. Jackson telephoned to say that he had been turned down on his proposal for entering Russia from the Pacific coast but had been advised to go to Moscow and possibly he could receive permission to travel there. Jackson asked for any possible suggestions and I said I would look into the matter but in the meantime I suggested he might personally take up this point on some occasion when Khrushchev was here, directing it to him personally if they did meet or through some other means. Jackson thought this an interesting suggestion and said he might talk to Senator J. W. Fulbright or Senator Mike Mansfield.

5. Julius Cahn telephoned saying Senator Hubert Humphrey wished to go to press tomorrow on the health situation in Laos. They were using a document from HEW entitled "Epidemiology Series No. 6 - Laos" dated March 1957. Cahn was inquiring if possibly we had a more up to date summary prepared on this subject which could be used. He also asked if we had some sort of a country statement dealing with history, language, etc. which could be used. I said it was doubtful that we had one in this form but I would check the matter and let him know. Subsequently, we advised we did not have any material that would be helpful.
